

What is that New Blue Glow in San Pablo?

January 27, 2010

You may have recently noticed a bright new glow at I-80 and San Pablo Dam Road. It's not your imagination. In fact, the blue up lights and new signs are hallmarks of the renovations at the Holiday Inn Express – San Pablo. The hotel recently completed a major upgrade which includes new lobby décor, bedding packages, bathroom amenities, exterior lighting and the distinctive signage.

Intercontinental Hotels, the parent group for Holiday Inns around the world, is nearly complete with the biggest hotel renovation initiative in history. Over the next few weeks, over 3,000 hotels around the globe will feature the new upgrades being modeled at our local Holiday Inn Express in San Pablo. The bright new lights and logos accompany the hotels traditional offerings, including a free hot breakfast bar, high-speed Internet access, business center, fitness room, sauna and upgraded guestrooms and suites.

"Look for the warm blue lights the next time you pass San Pablo Dam Road, and check in for a equally warm cinnamon roll or fresh baked cookie while you're here!," invites Paresh Pakhare, General Manager.
